

With the rising cost of continuing education in the trades or college, it's more important than ever for our students to consider the many opportunities scholarships can provide to advance their careers.

Scholarship Opportunities Await

Whether you're thinking of going directly into the workforce, military, or advancing your studies at a technical school or college, scholarships are essentially FREE money to help pay for school. Most scholarships are merit-based and awarded on academic, athletic, and extracurricular performance. Sometimes, they're awarded for simply filling out a form in scholarship sweepstakes. With so many scholarship opportunities available, we encourage you to explore and apply for scholarships. No matter your financial or academic situation, you will more than likely appreciate the support scholarships can give you.

The scholarships featured in this brochure are a great place to start. As a senior, you'll receive a notice when scholarships get posted, including application and deadline information, which range from the fall to spring. Please note that scholarships change from year to year as new ones become available and others are discontinued. So, be sure to check Canvas frequently.
